Description.

Mandrels are one of the many animal inhabitants of the planet Eden. There they live simple lives wallowing in the mud swamps, hunting for food and fighting with each other. Mandrels have unfortunately come under the interstellar spotlight due to the fact that when killed their bodies decompose into a pure form of the addictive drug vraxoin. This makes them a target for drug traffickers and pirates from across the galaxy. Mandrels which have been taken from their native environment and then escaped their captors have been sighted across the universe,
